The scrap metal "Green Book"

A preview of the green book realized by Assomet (National Association of Non Ferrous Metals Industries) in collaboration with Assofermet (National Association of iron and steel traders) with the title "From the economy of consumption to the economy of use: The case of non ferrous scrap metals," will be introduced at Metef Foundeq 2008, during the round table with the title "Policies for the future of metallurgy" programmed for 11 April. It is a text dedicated to tracing the state of the art of the metals sector and in particular, scrap metals and their precious recycling potentials. The data present in the green book testify to the key role of scrap metals in the Italian non ferrous metals sector, a sector strongly interrelated with many spheres of the metalworking and mechanical engineering industry and fulcrum of Italian excellence at an international level. In 2006 in Italy 2,010 tonnes
